Rathsallagh

Rathsallagh Country House is set on 530 acres of mature parklands, walled garden and lush greenery. The house is surrounded by its very own championship golf course. Rathsallagh dates back to 1798 when it was converted from Queen Anne stables.

Today Rathsallagh is one of Ireland's most exclusive wedding venues, renowned for its fine dining menus, award-winning buffet breakfast, roaring log fires, drawing room and luxurious bedrooms.

During the course of your wedding day guests can mingle and wander through these gracious rooms and gardens.

Recently Rathsallagh was proud to announce the introduction of facilities to cater for civil ceremonies and blessings. Rathsallagh house is an ideal venue for both large and small wedding parties.

The O'Flynn family and their wedding coordinators have many years experience planning, organising and delivering the perfect wedding day.

"Amazing setting, smiling faces, roaring fires, beautiful food. A spectacular day in this "home from home". If only we could do it all over again. Our anniversary can't come quickly enough."

The Orangery

"From the day we met wedding co-ordinators Catherine & Gillian we just knew that your beautiful home had to be the venue for our big day. We were not disappointed. All your staff looked after us very well. All of our guests were enthralled with the setting and very impressed with the quality of the cuisine and service. We visited Rathallagh recently and we were just amazed by the courtesy and friendliness shown to us during our stay. We were greeted like we were old friends. Our stay was perfect."
